Festival of Lights at Temple Avodah

Temple Avodah was in Hanukkah mode at its annual holiday celebration and party on Dec 16. The evening started with the temple's unique PJ Library, which featured holiday storytelling and crafts for children 8 and under. Parents and grandparents attended this event with children; crafts were made and dreidels and gelt were given out.

Rock Shabbat followed, which included the temple's teen, junior and adult choirs, and the temple band, Schleppenwolf. After services, more than 300 people attended dinner, with entertainment by TJ the Magician. Dinner included roast chicken, chicken nuggets, salad, side dishes, latkes, beverages, and desserts.

TJ THE MAGICIAN entertained children with his tricks.
